2014 C7 Corvette Bumper Saver Installation Instructions (Read Carefully Before Starting Project)

Thank you for your purchase of the Granatelli Motor Sports 2014 C7 Corvette Nose Saver / Bumper Savers. A great amount of thought went into this simple design and it pays huge dividends every time you pull your car into a lower clearance area. We feel you cannot get a better part in terms of quality or workmanship.

Tool Requirements: 11/32 drill bit, 1/2" socket with 1/4 drive ratchet or equivalent, 1/2" wrench – or (2) 1/2" wrenches.

1. Jack up the front of your Corvette and place jack stands (horses) in safe locations under undercarriage so that you can safely work around the lower radiator support area of the car.
2. Placing one bumper saver as high as possible up against the bottom on the urethane belly pan just below the radiator, it should be touching the inside of the steel lower radiator support. Looking at the two pictures below, with the welded stud facing the radiator support, line up the back of the bracket with the groove in the plastic belly pan. Using the welded stud as an index point, mark the spot where you will need to drill your 11/32" hole.

3. Bumper Savers are to be mounted to both insides of the lower radiator support arms so repeat this step on the other side (inside of support on left and right) as well.

4. Drill 11/32" hole through lower radiator support arms as specified above in #2.

5. Press completed assemblies with 5/16 welded bolt through newly drilled holes as shown in picture and tighten bolts to compression.

6. You're ready! – The front of your Corvette will love you forever.
